C-DOT has one main objective that is common with our industry. Their goal for 2018 is zero deaths on Colorado highways. Most of you would agree that we strive for zero deaths in our industry. We would like to challenge you to go to C-DOT safety link https://www.codot.gov/safety and check out what their safety plan is all about.

The website has information on safety grants, work zone safety, traffic and safety engineering, data, and safety initiatives. Most of the information is directed to issues that pertain to their program. With this information that C-DOT has provided us, we might just come up with a plan to help our industry climb out of the top 10 most dangerous jobs in the U.S. If you have any ideas on how to improve safety on the roads please talk to your supervisor and contact C-DOT with your idea. Some of you might think that your idea does not matter but if you don’t express your idea it is a grantees that nothing will be done.
